Dear Lasse Larsen,

Thank you for taking the time to tell me that you found what I wrote you to be useful and informative.

I appreciate it.

There will continue to be books and documentaries that misinform and mislead.

I know of some that are being worked on.

So I suggest that if you see any you ask yourself if it is reasonable.

If you decide that it might be, then ask if you consider it to be possible.

I think that plain common sense may screne out what is so often ego-indulgence or exploitation or just plain wrong even if without questionable motives.

Thanks and best wishes,

Harold Weisberg
